Let's Start!

Peter tells his boss about the workshop.

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs.

Ask your partner:

- Tell your friend about your favorite movie. Ask them what they think.
- Do you agree or disagree with them?
- Compare your favorite movie with your partner's.

Can Do Statements

- I can agree and disagree tactfully.
- I can talk or report about actions, events or people.
- I can make comparisons.

Let's Explore!

John exchanges e-mail with his boss.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

John receives an e-mail from his boss, Mr. Micklewhite:

micklewhite@cruisemail.com wrote:

Hello, John. I understand you participated in the workshop on customer service last week. There were more people than in other past workshops. I'm interested in your feedback on it. I think more tour guides should register. Please let me know your thoughts.

John.Harris@mail.com wrote:

Hello, Mr. Micklewhite. The workshop was really helpful for me. I certainly agree more guides would find it useful. However, I'm not sure if every guide will have time to attend. Sandra did a fantastic job. I learned about more efficient reservation procedures. Sandra demonstrated how an electronic system is faster than a paper and pen system. She also established a good rapport with the group. It was the best workshop ever on this ship. I hope future workshops will be as interesting as this was.

Let's Practice!

Does John agree?

Instructions: Read the dialogue above. Choose all the correct answers.

1. John says to his boss, "I certainly agree more guides will find the workshop useful."

- ☐ John thinks the same as his boss.
- ☐ John thinks other guides will not like the workshop.
- ☐ John agrees with his boss.
- ☐ John thinks the workshop will help other guides as well.
- ☐ John has a different opinion from his boss.

2. John continues to say, "However, I'm not sure if every guide will have time to attend."

- ☐ John agrees every guide can attend.
- ☐ John does not totally agree every guide can attend.
- ☐ John thinks differently from his boss.
- ☐ John doesn't know if he agrees or disagrees.
- ☐ John does not totally think the same as his boss.

Let's Practice!

John really enjoyed the workshop.

Instructions: Read the sentences. Fill in the blank with the missing word. Use the past tense of each verb in brackets.

1. John _____ (participate) in a workshop on customer service.
2. The workshop _____ (to be) very helpful for John.
3. There _____ (to be) more people than in past workshops.
4. Sandra _____ (do) a fantastic job presenting the workshop.
5. Sandra _____ (establish) a good rapport with the group.

Extension Activity

Compare how you bought movie tickets in the past to how you can do it today.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write 3 sentences on how you bought movie tickets or train tickets 10 years ago. Use past tense verbs.
- Write 3 sentences comparing this old system to how you buy these tickets now.
- Tell your partner your opinion and ask for their opinion on the two systems.

Self-Assessment

Target Words

- to participate (verb): to join in an activity or event
e.g. It's important that all employees participate in this workshop.
- to register (verb): to put your name in to join an activity or event e.g. You must register for the workshop before attending.
- let me know your thoughts (expression): to ask someone about their ideas or thoughts
e.g. Let me know your thoughts on the new system at work.
- to demonstrate (verb): to show with action how to do something e.g. Sandra demonstrated how to do a good presentation.
- electronic (adjective): used with a computer or the Internet e.g. An electronic reservation system would be easier and faster than a paper system.
- to establish (verb): to put a system or relationship firmly in place e.g. Sandra established a good relationship with her clients.
- rapport (noun): good friendly relations with others
e.g. It's a good idea to have a good rapport with all your customers.

Learning Points

Agreeing and Disagreeing

You use different phrases to agree and disagree tactfully (politely).
Generally, you use the Simple Present Tense in the affirmative to agree.

At the workplace, we ask for others' opinion with questions such as:

- What do you think?
- I'm interested in your feedback/input.
- Please let me know your thoughts.

We show agreement or disagreement with statements in the chart below.

Agreeing	Disagreeing
I agree with you 100 percent. I couldn't agree with you more. That's so true. You're absolutely right. Absolutely. That's exactly how I feel. Exactly. You have a point there.	I don't think so. I'm afraid I disagree. I beg to differ. Not necessarily. That's not always true. I'm not sure if ... I see what you're saying, but ... I don't know about that ...

Examples:

- John: Don't you think coconut water is good for your body?
- Sandra: Absolutely.
- Sandra: Coffee isn't healthy for you.
- John: That's not always true.

Learning Points

Comparatives & Superlatives

You can use adjectives to compare two things. These are called comparative adjectives. You can also use adjectives to compare one item with the rest of a group. These are called superlative adjectives.

For comparative adjectives, you can use the structure:

as + adjective + as adjective (-er) than more/less + adjective + than

Adjectives with 3 syllables or more use more/less + adjective + than.

For superlative adjectives, you can use:

- adjective (-est)
- most/least + adjective

Adjectives with 3 syllables or more use most/least + adjective.

The adjectives good and bad are irregular adjectives. They do not follow the same rules.

Good ----> better-----> best
Bad -----> worse -----> worst

Examples:

- Selling good quality products is as important as good customer service.
- There are more people at this workshop than the last one.
- There was less time allotted for the last workshop than this one.
